The Second Stakeholder Workshop was a Success!

The Canin Associates team shared the results of the Community Values Survey conducted at the first Stakeholder Workshop and the takeaway from the results. The highest ranked images from the Survey were then used to generate ideas for three key areas of the city:

Downtown, the Waterfront, and the Commercial Corridors. Participants engaged in an interactive discussion to create scenarios for the future of each area.

See you on the 16th.

There's still time for you to weigh in on how you see the future of Titusville

Final Visioning Workshop

Thursday, November 16th 6:00pm at City Hall

Next Steps

Adopt the Vision for the Future

At the kickoff Stakeholder Workshop, participants provided input for long-range strategies for growth, development, and transportation. View the Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats presentation at www.titusvilletomorrow.com. Attendees also participated in an interactive Community Value Survey. Have additional comments? Submit them through the TitusvilleTomorrow website or contact the Planning Department.

At the second Stakeholder Workshop, the Canin Associates team shared the results of the Community Value Survey, and discussed topics generated by the Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, and Threats exercise. Attendees participated in interactive discussions focusing on three key areas of the city: downtown, the waterfront, and transportation corridors. The input and information gained from these exercises will be used to craft the vision that will be used to guide the development of a new comprehensive plan. View the presentations from the second Stakeholder Workshop.

At the final Visioning Workshop, on November 16th, The Canin Associates team will present the results of the first two workshops and share ideas that relate all of the input provided. The Canin Associates team needs your input to help craft a Vision Statement for the City.

The Vision developed this fall will inform the 2018 update of the Comprehensive Plan which guides Titusville's future development patterns.
